U.S. Probation Officer Action:

Reference is made to Jakim Stradford (Stradford), who was sentenced by the Honorable Chief Judge Wolfson, on March 9, 2021, as noted above. Stradford commenced his term of supervised release on January 27, 2023, in the District of New Jersey, given his approved residence in Neptune City, New Jersey. Following his release from custody, Stradford was referred to Recovery Innovations, LLC, in Eatontown, New Jersey, for a substance abuse and mental health treatment assessment. It was determined that continued treatment for both co-occurring issues was needed, due to Stradford's lengthy substance abuse history and mental health issues.

The purpose of this memorandum is to advise the Court, that on February 28, 2023, and March 6, 2023, Stradford underwent urinalyses at Recovery Innovations, the results of which were positive for the presence of amphetamines, cocaine, suboxone (medically prescribed), marijuana, and alcohol. Stradford admitted to using the substances and that a higher level of care might be appropriate at this time. As a result of Stradford's relapse, he has been referred for residential substance abuse treatment, which commences at New Hope Integrated Behavioral Health Care, in Marlboro, New Jersey, on March 13, 2023. His placement is scheduled to last for 30 days. It is the Probation Office's hope that a short-term residential placement will assist in ceasing Stradford's substance use and provide him with a structured environment as he re-enters back into society. Additionally, due to Stradford's willingness to participate in treatment, no action is being requested by the Probation Office at this time. We will continue to monitor Stradford's compliance with supervision and treatment. The Court will be notified if additional instances of non-compliance occur. We respectfully await Your Honor's decision in this matter.

Respectfully submitted,

SUSAN M. SMALLEY, Chief
U.S. Probation Officer
